LODGEMEN OF EUREKA PROVE JOY PRODUCERS

Fun And Frolic Held Full Sway When Dokkies Came

MANY WERE INITIATED

35 Members Taken In With Side-Aching Ceremonies

Have the Dokkies been to town? Ask any of the 3000 citizens of Ukiah, and particularly the 31 tyros who crossed the sands on their pilgrimage to the innermost temple of the Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan on Saturday evening at the Grammar school auditorium, and you will receive the answer, "they came, they saw, they conquered."

From early Friday evening to the early dawn on Sunday morning, the votaries of the Dramatic Order of Knights of Khorassan, numbering about 250, continuously arrived from all parts of the state, and all gave vent to the joyous spirit of the occasion in personification of that poetic expression: "Laugh and the world laughs with you, weep and you weep alone."

It Started Early.

On the arrival of the Divan of El Se Kwoia Temple on Friday afternoon, the spirit of fraternal love, and good fellowship began to permeate the atmosphere and continued until our townsmen had forgotten their mutual woes, and constituted a united brotherhood. Saturday was devoted to street amusements to the delight and enjoyment of all. The Toonerville Cops of El Se Kwoia Temple policed the town and rendered most valuable assistance and aid to the town marshal, Monte Cleland, in handling the heavy traffic on the streets. Autoists, at first were dismayed on gazing at the unique uniforms, helmets and stars of the Toonerville cops, and being so summarily stopped upon their way, wondered what it was all about, but after being fully "advised in the premises," joined in the jollification and the spirit of the occasion. The crowning event of the day came when a kiddie-car race was staged on State street between Tyros A. L. Wessels and C. H. Crawford; this race proved to be a handicap race of the first magnitude, but Tyro Crawford was laboring under such a handicap that Tyro Wessels won.

They Dined Well.

A sumptuous banquet was served to all votaries, tyros, their wives and guests at 6:30 P. M., Saturday, at the I. O. O. F. hall; during the festivities, the Ukiah orchestra, under the excellent direction of E. J. Anderson, orchestra leader and bandmaster, entertained the guests with numerous pleasing selections. O. F. Graf, acted as toastmaster, with his usual ability and to the enjoyment of all. Judge H. L. Preston delivered the address of welcome, with most appropriate remarks and anecdotes, responded to by Judge

NEW HOTEL IS POSSIBLE BUT WE MUST HELP

Mass Meeting Tonight In Court House To Settle Offer

$75,000 MUST BE RAISED

Twenty Year Lease Is Asked For Already By Eurekan

At a meeting of the Ukiah Bankers' Group, officials of the Ukiah Chamber of Commerce, and consulting Architect Frederick Whitton, of San Francisco, in this city Monday afternoon a contract between the parties interested in building the proposed new hotel and the citizens of Ukiah was presented, revised and adopted as a good contract with all the safeguards possible thrown around the instrument.

What Terms Are.

As the proposition now stands a hotel will be built in Ukiah on the site of the Hotel Cecille, at a cost of $327,000, including furnishings. Ukiah must subscribe $75,000 of this amount in 7 per cent preferred non-assessible stock, the dividend on the above stock to be personally guaranteed investors. The hotel will be leased to Leo Ledenbaum, owner of The Eureka Inn and the Wiltshire Hotel of San Francisco, for a term of 20 years. The subscription must be completed within ten days.

Building of the hotel will be the beginning of a new life for this city. There is no question of the place Ukiah will occupy in relation to other towns should the hotel become a reality. Ukiah will be the largest stopping point for motorists north of the bay.

An almost perfect response has been made to the offer to build the hotel, and it now becomes necessary to do the one important thing—to meet the proposal with $75,000.

SEN. S. M. SHORTRIDGE DELIVERS A CONVINCING COOLIDGE PLEA

La Follette Shown As Enemy Of California's Interests—Great Economy Program Of Administration Explained.

JUDGE H. L. PRESTON DID COURTEOUS ACT

Monday evening while the crowd was waiting for the arrival of the Willits band at courthouse square and when the coolness of the air was beginning to make an uneasy mood possess the people, Judge H. L. Preston happened along and extended an invitation to the people to go into the superior court room and have Senator S. M. Shortridge address them there. It was a most thoughtful act upon the part of Judge Preston and one which a great many appreciated. It is just such manifestations of regard for the consideration of others at all times that is making Judge Preston very popular with all classes wherever he goes.

Monday saw Senator Shortridge in Ukiah, he being met at the depot by many of our prominent county officials and almost immediately whisked off to attend a dinner gotten up in Senator Shortridge's honor by A. Perelli-Minetti, at his home. There were invited U. S. Senator S. M. Shortridge, Judge J. M. Mannon, State Senator F. C. Handy, Assemblyman C. B. Melville, of Fort Bragg; J. A. Pettis, of Fort Bragg; C. M. Mannon, chairman of the County Central Committee; Fred Waugh; A. R. O'Brien, secretary of the committee; M. H. Iversen, J. E. Boys, William A. S. Foster, of Willits; Leslie E. Crawford, C. D. Tribuno, Charles E. Sternberg, Joseph McEnerney and Samuel M. Shortridge, Jr.

The occasion was a very pleasing experience for all.

Among those present in addition to the gentlemen at the dinner, to greet Senator Shortridge, were W. W. Ware, of Fort Bragg; Judge H. L. Preston, Mayor George P. Anderson, District Attorney J. C. Hurley, E. L. Cunningham, Rev. W. W. Breckenridge, Frank Sandelin and others.

After this dinner the meeting announced for the open air in front of the courthouse was changed to the inside by those in charge of arrangements, through the courtesy of Judge H. L. Preston, and at eight o'clock the seats were all filled and shortly after there was not even standing room therein, but many were gathered around the doorway.

The remarks of the Senator at the Monday meeting were, in part, as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen:

"I esteem it a very great honor and assuredly it is a very great pleasure to meet so many of you ladies and gentlemen of your splendid county here in your beautiful city of Ukiah; and I feel quite at home here in this temple of justice, quite at home. It is a pleasure and an honor: a pleasure because I see that you take a sincere interest in the welfare of the state and nation. It is an honor to me for you to be here to listen to me address you. It is not my purpose to detain you long, but I hope to say something worthy of your attention. Whatever some men may say, this is a government of the people, by the people and for the people, and being such a government manifestly it must receive from the people whatever makes it righteous, strong and prosperous and whatever makes it glorious. A duty rests upon you and me and it has always seemed to me that the first question which should be propounded and which should be answered by us severally is: Wherein lies my duty to my city, my county, my state and my country? I speak to you in the spirit of that thought, and that other thought expressed by the Romans many centuries ago, which was to this effect: In the better days of the Roman republic there was a maxim which ran like this: 'Let every man write upon his brow his thought concerning the welfare of the republic.' And so without malice, and with the kindest and the most respectful feeling toward all, I purpose to submit to you tonight some reasons, some facts, which I venture to advise justify us, justify us in walking under and upholding the banner of the republican party, and urging you regardless of partizanship to vote for the great statesman, the great patriot—conservative yet advancing—Calvin Coolidge. (Applause.)

What Republicans Have Done.

"Today we are at peace with the world. After March 4, 1921, when the present administration came into power, the first treaty which was submitted to the Senate for ratification was the treaty with the republic of Colombia. That treaty settled an old controversy. It was a wise adjustment of a controversy which existed for over a quarter of a century, and by that peaceful settlement we also made peace and strengthened our position with all of the Central American and South American Latin republics. It made safe the Panama Canal which vitally interests us all, as a state and as a nation. After the Great War, we still remained in a state of war with Germany, but we have made peace with that once empire—now republic—and our relations, commercial and otherwise, are cordial and friendly.

"The great conference which met in Washington, called together by President Harding, resulted in treaties and in agreements and understandings making for the peace of the world; and among other treaties which were negotiated by that conference and submitted to the senate and ratified, was the so-called four power treaty, between Great Britain, France, Japan and the United States, whereby insofar as human wisdom can guarantee, there is to be peace on the Pacific. And we have entered altogether into some 50 treaties of commerce and navigation, ensuring peaceful commercial relations, and cordial relations always, with these different nations of the earth.

"As to our domestic trade among the 48 states of the Union, conditions have never been better.

We Are Contented.

"I would remind you that this nation has grown from a feeble nation to 110,000,000—from three and a half millions. We are now the strongest and the richest nation on the earth, and in it is contained tonight more happy men, women and children than does any other government on earth.

How Debt Came Down.

"On March 4, 1921, this nation was indebted in the sum of twenty-four billion dollars. The annual interest account was practically one billion dollars. That colossal debt was, of course, the result of the war. I do not pause to explain how that great debt was largely the result of extravagance and incompetency. It is enough tonight to remind you that then we had bonds outstanding of twenty-four billions of dollars, and we have reduced that great national debt from that to twenty-one billion, of over three billion dollars—and that means a saving in the annual interest account of over $135,000,000. The money for these bonds was advanced by our own people and out of it were made those enormous loans to foreign nations, which it is my purpose to see are repaid by those nations; they, of course, being granted reasonable time and reasonable terms of repayment. Great Britain has already made arrangements for the paying off of her share.

Great Saving Shown.

"This administration has reduced the cost of government, to the extent of over two billions per annum. I speak authoritatively. Any good friend here who doubts it, can verify it. I could dwell upon the importance of this a long time, upon the significance of it; but I will only say this, that it is always to be remembered that the cost of administering this government, of running it, comes out of the pockets of you taxpayers in California, and the rest of the nation.

Taxes Were Reduced.

"Yet in spite of this saving in the cost of administering the government and reducing the national debt, through that wonderful secretary of the treasury, nearly as great a man as Alexander Hamilton, the founder of the treasury department, if not as great, we have been able to cut off 25 per cent of the income tax on incomes under $20,000.

Where Are They Now?

"When this administration came into power there was an army of unemployed amounting to four and one half to five millions of men, not of the I. W. W., not loafers, but men willing and anxious to work; and these figures are verified or supported by the statements of such men as James J. Davis, secretary of labor, and Samuel Gompers, the head of the American Federation of Labor. The unemployed crowded the cities and filled the highways, almost watering the dust thereof with their tears, for without work there can be no such thing as happiness. Where is that army of unemployed now? It is disbanded, and it disbanded years ago, and today practically all of the people of the United States are employed. Business is good. It is so here in Mendocino county; it is so in every county in my dear state of California.

La Follette Our Enemy.

And now as regards the tariff law, do you wish a free-trader in the presidential chair, a man who voted against the schedules that have been established for the protection of California

AT GREAT AGE DEATH CALLED DR. G. M'COWEN

Packed First Trees To Potter Valley On His Back

HAD REMARKABLE MIND

To Day Of His Death Deceased Led An Active Life

Funeral services will be held in Ukiah today at two o'clock for Dr. George McCowen, who died suddenly Monday evening about seven o'clock. The service will be from the Cleland chapel and will be held under the auspices of Abell Lodge No. 146, F. & A. M.

Dr. McCowen was one of the earliest and most prominent of the pioneers of Mendocino county. He was born in Mason, Warren county, Ohio, on March 18, 1833. He came to California with his parents in 1857, the journey being made across the plains by ox team. The family first settled on a ranch in Grass Valley, but later moved to Potter Valley.

A Pioneer Fruit Grower.

Folowing his father's death, Mr. McCowen took active charge of the ranch and was the first farmer to see the practicability of fruit growing. Having no wagon or horses he carried apple trees from Nevada county on his back and set out the first apple orchard in Potter Valley, later planting other fruit trees. He was also the village blacksmith and with his mechanical skill soon built up a lucrative trade and retired from farming.

Later Mr. McCowen went to St. Louis, Mo., and took up the study of dentistry. Upon his graduation he returned to Ukiah and continued to administer to the public until the infirm-

AUTO THIEF IS GIVEN A CHANCE TO REFORM

Judge H. L. Preston Is Liable To Parole Kenneth Kelley

The pleas of the mother of Kenneth Kelley, of Oakland, and the promise of a reformation upon the part of the youthful automobile thief, won from Judge H. L. Preston an opening toward a parole the past week.

Mrs. Kelley came here from the Bay and, upon a showing the boy had not been in trouble before, her son, who stole the Cleland car some weeks ago, was paroled until November 15 when he is to appear before Judge Preston and the question of his further probation will be passed upon.

One of the conditions attached to the chance to make good was that the offender should, by November 15, pay back to the county the sum of $63 costs paid out in recovering the machine.

Coast Newspaper Says Cunningham Misery Was Capitalized

URGED TO HOLD OFFICE

Ex-Collector Wanted To Resign But Was Induced To Stay

The Grand jury met on Thursday of last week at 3 o'clock and, after organizing, began the consideration of preliminary matters. It is understood, but not officially, the Lee Cunningham case was taken up and that later action will follow. The grand jurors, after partially outlining their future work, adjourned to meet in Ukiah October 20. The personnel of the body and its officers is: E. A. Sinclair, foreman, Glen Blair; Lulu E. Turner, secretary, Fort Bragg; Ed Beal, Elk; E. W. Dilingham, Albion; Mrs. John S. Ross, Mendocino; John Wallach, Boonville; Ed Haehl, Cloverdale; F. C. Bull, Ukiah; Chas. L. Crawford, Ukiah; Earl Prather, Philo; John Gavin, Potter Valley; Chester W. Craig, Point Arena; W. A. S. Foster, Willits; A. Perelli-Minetti, Ukiah; Adelaide Rohrbough, Covelo; Mrs. George Biggar, Covelo; John Matson, Elk; Mrs. H. O. Coale, Mendocino, Mrs. A. A. Lord, Mendocino.

The comment of The Fort Bragg News, in part, on the recent Cunningham resignation runs:

"After a close association with the early-day Mongolians of California, Bret Harte said that 'for ways that are dark and tricks that are vain, the heathen Chinee is peculiar.' Had Harte lived in the present day and made his habitat in Mendocino county, he would probably have changed the words 'heathen Chinee' to read 'petty politician.'

'The recent attempt of a small coterie of would-be political bosses of Mendocino county to gain control of the important office of tax collector of the county by taking advantage of the misfortune of a public official, and then to retain such control by technicality in opposition to the will of the people, has it all over Bret Harte's 'heathen Chinee' for ways that are dark, and apparently for tricks that are vain.

Why Scheme Failed.

"That such attempt did not succeed appears to be due to the good sense—even if somewhat tardy in action—of Lee Cunningham, who resigned from the office of county tax collector last Friday. More than a month ago, Mr. Cunningham discovered a shortage of over $8,000 in his accounts. According to the best information obtainable, his first and really his only inclination was to resign from the office.

"Acting upon the advice of politicians who evidently desired to use him for their own selfish ends, however, Mr. Cunningham later reconsid-

GREAT INDIAN FILM COMING NEXT MONDAY

'Secret Of The Pueblo' Is Feature With A Supreme Realism

Tonight's entertainment will be the farewell appearance of Toby and the MacDonough Stock Company for this season, as they are booked to play several weeks at The State Theatre, of Eureka, another popular playhouse of the George M. Mann chain.

A Strong North Story.

For Thursday and Friday, you will see a real he-man story of the Far North—an epic of Alaska. It will be Thomas Meighan in the title role of James Oliver Curwood's story, "The Alaskan," which thrilled the million or more readers of the Cosmopolitan magazine in which it appeared and we will vouch it will be one picture that you'll be talking about for the rest of the season.

Following this attraction Bebe Daniels and Richard Dix will be seen in "Sinners of Heaven,' 'a colorful picturization of the prize novel by the same name. "In the Knicker Time," the second episode of the Go-Getters series, featuring Alberta Vaughn and George O'Hara, and "The Gun Packer," a Universal western, are the short subjects booked for Saturday's showing so the entire program will, beyond a doubt, prove delightful entertainment to all.

A Newspaper Story.

Wesley Barry and Harry Myers in "The Printer's Devil" is the exceptionally strong feature attraction for Sunday's program, and excellent short subjects will also be found on the same bill.

An Indian Story.

On Monday Neal Hart, "America's Pal," will be seen in "The Secret of the Pueblo," a most unusual offering dealing with the mystic and weird cliff dwelling Pueblo Indians. Hard-riding cowboys, fights, hair-breadth escapes and cattle shipping scenes add many a thrill to this absorbing story.

Two Good Ones.

Gene Stratton Porter's own production of her famous novel, "A Girl of the Limberlost," is the feature offering for Tuesday and Wednesday and it is a picture that is an inspiring story of life worth while as it brings to the screen all the riches and beaty of this widely read out-of-doors romance. Ben Turpin in "Three Foolish Weeks," a burlesque on Elinor Glyn's noted story, "Three Weeks," is to be the exceptional comedy offering for these two days.

Week's Events Told Of Potter Valley

(Special Correspondence of The Press)

POTTER VALLEY, Oct. 6.—Potter Valley had a copious rain the past day or so, coming unexpectedly to some, or in fact, most everyone. Outdoor sleepers were suddenly aroused from their slumbers and had to change quarters hastily. However, the rain was gratefully accepted and no doubt will prove a big benefit to stockmen and ranchers.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Carr, and Mrs. Carr's father passed the day in Potter Valley recently. It is home to them—Mr. Marders and daughter being old residents here, though now living in Ukiah.

O. R. Hughes and family, of Ukiah, spent Sunday last visiting relatives.

Royal S. Ryder, wife and daughter, Elizabeth, have returned from the city, where they have been visiting H. A. Mohr and family, of the Sunset District, the past few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Ryder and daughter enjoyed a visit at the home of J. Scott Ryder and wife, of Ukiah, where a little home dinner was served in honor of Miss Elizabeth Ryder's fourteenth birthday.

Mrs. Grover Hunter has recently returned from Langland hospital with her new baby daughter.

Mrs. J. D. Braver, of Pomo, left Saturday last for Stockton to spend a couple of weeks with her daughter, Mrs. C. T. Smalley, and family. The great attraction now is to make the acquaintance of the young granddaughter about two weeks old. Mr. and Mrs. Brower are now grandparents for the nineteenth time, and Mrs. Smalley is their youngest born.

A concrete bridge is being put in at Lower Potter on the east side—that is Pomo. John McGuffin is in charge of the work.

Austin Lowe and bride, nee Veva Luce, returned from their honeymoon trip, to the home of Mr. Lowe's parents here, Thursday evening last, and were greeted by the old time charivari party. When the noise had subsided, friends were invited in, congratulations were then in order, after which various amusements were indulged in, and the partaking of refreshments kept every one busy until departing guests began extending good wishes for happiness and prosperity.

CITY PAPER RUNS A STORY OF HOPPER CAR

Automobile Of Banker Is Written Up By The Bulletin

The automobile section of the San Francisco Bulletin the other day carried the following story about the expensive camping car of Henry Hopper, president of The First National Bank of this city:

When it comes to a "palace on wheels," H. T. Hopper, Ukiah banker, has what is generally conceded to be the niftiest vehicle ever sent on a tour out of this state. Accompanied by S. J. Halliday, M. J. Gibson and W. G. Cox, the Ukiah banker has recently returned from an extensive trip through the Pacific Northwest.

Story Of The Car.

Mr. Hopper, whose fondness for motor travel led him to devise a means of escaping the inconvenience of small town hotels and being forced to keep to the beaten tracks of travel, bought a Pierce-Arrow bus chassis of the regulation size and type seen so much on California highways. Then he had a special body constructed. Inside, the Hopper coach contains all of the appointments one would deem necessary for luxurious travel. It is designed to accommodate four persons, providing regular Pullman beds and leather arm chairs. There is a three-burner gas range on which to prepare the daily meals. There is a portable sink and a host of other minor luxuries that the average tourist is forced to forego.

It Was Expensive.

Mr. Hopper spared no expense in fitting the Pierce-Arrow bus to his needs. It cost him, he says, well over $10,000. He is able to maintain the legal speed limit with safety and in comfort far greater than in any touring car he ever owned, while the complete freedom from hotels and towns is a great convenience.

Mrs. Eleanor Langley and little daughter, of Berkeley, are guests of Mrs. Langley's mother and sister, Mrs. Caroline Thomas and Mrs. Edgar Dutton, this week.

H. S. Elliot, former resident of the coast section in this county and now residing in Santa Rosa, was in town Monday.

The woolgrowers of Mendocino, Sonoma and Lake counties have been summoned to a meeting to be held in the city hall, Ukiah, tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. A number of very vital problems are up for consideration, among them being the quarantine and feed situations. The call is sent out by Casper Ornbaun, president, and William T. Clow, secretary of the Mendocino, Sonoma and Lake Counties Woolgrowers Association.

Chiropractors Enjoyed Session Held In Ukiah Sunday

About 300 chiropractors held a convention in Ukiah, Sunday, October 5. These practitioners represent the California State Chiropractic Society. The program embraced a discussion of general health problems and research work pertaining to the scientific and practical application of their profession. The enormous and almost phenomenal growth of the popularity of chiropractic was evidenced in the reports made to the convention.

Chiropractors were loud in their praise of the beauty of the Ukiah valley and surrounding country. Dr. Ralph Blend was really the host to the convention and his popularity as the local chiropractor was evidenced by courtesies extended to the convention meeting here.

They Liked Ukiah.

Ukiah was cordial in her welcoming of the Chiropractors and the visitors returned home satisfied in every way and pleased at the high regard local people hold the members of the profession. To Dr. R. S. Blend Ukiah is indebted for inducing the members of the society to come here to hold their quarterly gathering.

320,000 POUNDS OF HOPS LATELY SOLD

Little Over 18 Cents Is Paid On Deliveries For Three Years

One of the biggest deals in hops in months was consummated when Geo. A. Proctor, of Santa Rosa, bought under contract, 320,000 pounds of hops from the Chisholm Farms Co.

Runs Three Years.

The contract covers a period of three years and the delivery of the hops is divided up as follows: 1925 delivery, 120,000 pounds; 1926, 100,000 pounds, and 1927, 100,000 pounds. The price paid was slightly better than 18 cents per pound for all three years. The hops were purchased for shipment to London.

Probably A Starter.

The hops will be grown on the old Farmer and Peterson ranch, which was formerly the Wohler ranch on the Russian river. The contract assures that the big yards will be cultivated for hops for three years more. The quality of hops produced is always good. The contract made is the first in months and it will not be surprising if other business in contracts livens up the market for futures, which has been dull for some time. Some 6000 bales of 1924 Sonoma county hops have already been sold, mostly by contract. The estimated yield for the year in Sonoma county was around 15,000 bales.

DOING NICELY

Ukiah friends of Harold Baker will be interested in the publicity he is receiving from the press of the Bay cities because of his excellent salesmanship qualities. In a contest being waged between the Ford sales agencies of San Francisco and Oakland, Mr. Baker, manager of the Les Firestine Ford Agency of Berkeley, is credited with delivering a car a day. Mr. Baker has a force of six men under him.

May Develop Eel River Water System Greatly

Following the visit last month of Major General Goethals, who was in charge of the major portion of the construction work on the Panama Canal, comes the revived and, practically, verified report water will be taken from Lake Pillsbury to supply Bay cities with water for domestic purposes. The party that visited Lake Pillsbury consisted of a number of prominent engineers and agents of finance corporations. Division Engineers E. C. Mills and B. Sturgeon, of the East Bay Municipal District, who have been studying the upper Sacramento and Eel projects, also accompanied the party. After visiting the Gravelly Valley dam, the party continued to Ukiah and down the Russian river country, the latter offering possibilities for an aqueduct line.

SHEEP PAY WELL

Ed Gambrel has disposed of 16,000 pounds of wool from his sheep. Fifty cents a pound was the amount paid for the wool. For lamb's wool Mr. Gambrel got 30 cents a pound and the lambs were heavy producers at that. Another costly Delane ram has been purchased by Mr. Gambrel and will shortly be here.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Ford have moved to the former Monte Banker home in North State street. Mr. and Mrs. Banker have leased one of the new Ray cottages a few blocks nearer town on North State street.

Poem by Uncle John

We have to use the proper bait in fishin' for a whale, and unless we fish in earnest, we are mighty apt to fail. Unless a feller prides hisself in knowin' more'n the fish, he may seat hisself at supper-time, beside an empty dish. While some may laze along the crick, and never land a thing, there'll be others waddle by 'em, with a dozen on their string!

There's only one condition that compels the perch to bite, and they'll yank the bobber under, if yer hook is baited right. There's tragedy in fishin' same as any other art,—due to ignorance and slothfulness, which can't be told apart! But—the chap will face a platter full of savory beauties, fried, if his heart is in the bait-can that nestles by his side.

And that's the solemn principle that underlies the sport, which is jest as true in enterprise of any other sort!

THE TRUTH
"—is also found in frank confession of error"

The Republican Press will be glad to receive and publish corrections of inaccuracies in its columns.

HE BELONGS IN RUSSIA

AS Senator Phelan points out, it is appalling that a man like La Follette, who was almost expelled from the United States Senate for his disloyal attitude during the war, should now be a candidate for president of the United States. There is no question but that La Follette is being run by ardent dissensionists. Just why they are enemies and would plunge the country into a chaos like that of Germany or Russia is hard to fathom. The United States is not perfect. It has blundered on some big and vital questions, but withal it is the best country on earth, as every critic, however vituperative, must admit in his own conscience. Why then set in motion or give authority to revolutionary elements which would disrupt not only our own democracy, but would be the undoing of other countries, war-wracked or sovietized to the point of disintegration and only held together now by the stability of America and its able program of world reconstruction? asks The Sonoma Index-Tribune.

Robt. M. La Follette, third party candidate for the presidency, is the favored candidate of bolshevism. The bolsheviki of Russia regard him as the entering wedge of the nefarious plot which is being financed in that country and would nationalize us. And what of this soviet system? According to first hand information from Russia, it is a miserable semblance of government which benefits the few and is class government of the worst sort. The farmers of Russia are taxed to death to maintain the international army and to finance propaganda throughout the world. They can sell their wheat only to the soviet government at a price set by the government, which in turn traffics in it and makes millions "for the cause." Part of the propaganda fund is being spent in America right now to elect La Follette. Voters who thoughtlessly are aiding the candidacy of this instrument of radicalism should inform themselves. Republicans who do not favor their party candidate because of his attitude on some of the issues, will not vote for La Follette if they think anything of their Americanism at all. Better vote for the democrat, the outright socialist, or any of the candidates than to aid and abet the plot to get the tentacles of bolshevism fastened on this country through the insidious machinations of disgruntled politicians and the man they have picked for their leader.

CONGRESSIONAL CHOAS

"UNCLE" Joe Cannon's 50 years of service in the national House of Representatives obviously lends weight to comment from him on present day conditions in Congress. In the current number of The Saturday Evening Post the veteran legislator is moved to make pertinent observations concerning statesmen who use the party label for election purposes and cast it aside as soon as safely seated in Congress. "Today," he points out, "the House has 435 members, each with his own individual ideas of what he wishes to accomplish for his constituents and for himself. Here are potential conflict and chaos on a huge scale."

A congress is elected by a majority of the voters of the country and they decide whether congress shall have a Republican, Democratic or some other kind of a majority. If the people disapprove the acts of Congress they rebuke the party in power by electing another kind of majority, a custom which has prevailed since America established a representative form of government.

The insurgent, the so-called independent, and the what-not, seek to change all this. As former Speaker Cannon so bluntly states, "they operate between the lines of the two responsible parties. If they did that between the lines of two armies they would be shot at sunrise. There are today members of Congress who insist they are Republicans and at the same time are opposing the Republican party and trying to hamstring it.

"When men claim officially and unofficially to belong to one party, and appeal to the voters of that party to elect them to office, and at the same time oppose the leading candidates of that party and trade with the enemy, they are something more than inconsistent. In my experience of three score years in politics I have never before comes in contact with a kind of politics so degenerate and shameless as this."

There may be many who honestly differ with the Danville statesman regarding the practical results of the direct primary laws in nation and state, but his views at least furnish food for serious thought:

"I believe that the so-called popular primary laws are about the saddest failures in the way of legislation enacted within recent years. They are inventions of the insurgents, as I see it, have accomplished nothing for the liberties of the people and have been highly subversive of party discipline, party responsibility and constructive legislation.

"It was supposed by most of those who voted for them that they would give the people better and more direct representation; more intelligent leadership than they were able to obtain under the old caucus and convention system. Though I have no wish to insult or offend any citizen who has been put in office under the new system, I am obliged to believe that the average selection is lower, not higher, now than when all candidates were chosen by the caucus-convention method.

"To me it seems clear that the reason for this was because the backbone of the old system was party responsibility, and this developed leadership of the ablest kind. Then there was real party cohesion and discipline."

The American people recognize that the situation in Congress has become almost intolerable. Tax legislation in harmony with the president's recommendation and approved by the ways and means committee and other important measures, were refused passage by small groups during the last session. Negation and obstruction was the aim of these various groups all working for self-interest. Let the country elect a Congress pledged to carry out the policies of one party or the other as the voters may determine, and then force that Congress to act. The people are sick and tired of inaction, of group control, of individuals attempting for selfish political reasons to force the limelight upon themselves at the cost of needed legislation. If Coolidge is to be elected, give him a Republican Congress, and if Davis by any chance, is the choice of a majority of the American people, let his administration be backed by a Congress in harmony with his policies.

JUST THIS MINUTE

If we're thoughtful, just this minute,
In whate'er we say and do;
If we put a purpose in it
That is honest through and through,
We shall gladden life and give it
Grace to make it all sublime;
For, though life is long, we live it
Just a minute at a time.

Just this minute we are going
Toward right or toward wrong;
Just this minute we are sowing
Seeds of sorrow or of song.
Just this minute we are thinking
On the ways that lead to God,
Or in idle dreams are sinking
To the level of the clod.

Yesterday is gone; tomorrow
Never comes within our grasp;
Just this minute's joy or sorrow,
That is all our hands may clasp.
Just this minute! Let us take it
As a pearl of precious price,
And with high endeavor make it
Fit to shine in paradise.

A PRETTY SPECTACLE

UNITED STATES Senator Hiram W. Johnson is more or less the political storm center of California. Supporters of La Follette were attempting to enlist him to the La Follette-for-President movement. The Coolidge forces, to which Senator Johnson as a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, presumably would be loyal, were reported equally active in their attempts to wring from the senator a direct statement urging election of President Colidge. Senator Johnson remains silent in the seclusion of his home in San Francisco.—Santa Rosa Republican.

It surely has come to a fine pass when the republicans of the state of California are compelled to entreat their presumably republican senator to help elect a republican president of the United States.

USE YOUR HEAD

A woodpecker pecks
Out a great many specks
Of sawdust
When building a hut;
He works like a nigger
To make the hole bigger,
He's sore if
His cutter won't cut.
He don't bother with plans
Of cheap artisans,
But there's one thing
Can rightly be said;
The whole excavation
Has this explanation:
He builds it
By Using
His Head.

RAW! RAW! RAW!

The rookie had lately joined a crack cavalry outfit, and after several imitations of the Prince of Wales had lost some of his exuberance. He was standing on the sunny side of the canteen looking like the spirit of melancholy when the genial chaplain approached.

"What's the matter, my boy?" asked the chaplain. "Homesick?"

"Oh, a little, I guess," was the answer. "You see, I'm just a raw recruit."

"Cheer up, you'll be all right. But you shouldn't say 'raw recruit.' The 'raw' is superfluous."

The rookie rubbed his anatomy reflectively and then replied with sad emphasis:

You May Have Money Without Knowing It

H. J. Hess, bond merchant of San Francisco who was in Ukiah enroute to Eureka Monday, is doing business of an unusual kind. Mr. Hess is not trying to "float" German bonds. Instead he is buying bonds and, in many instances German bonds are bringing returns to owners they had long despaired of getting. Mr. Hess not long ago paid $20,000 to a Eureka man who had invested $500 in some German securities which he later believed worthless. Another Eureka man got $1800 for bonds he thought of no value. "If you have any German bonds, let me know about them. I will tell you what they are worth. On top of this, however, no one should buy German paper, unless they have been fully advised regarding the merit of the bonds," said Mr. Hess.

Tom Moore, a former resident of Willits now located at Ukiah, went to Willits Saturday night on business.

Merrill Williams, of Willits, was in Ukiah the latter part of last week on business.

Bob Williams, of Willits, motored to Ukiah last Friday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fairbanks motored from Willits to Ukiah Wednesday evening to attend the meeting with the committee of nine.

George Mowers, of Covelo, was in Ukiah last week on business.

CULTUS CLUB PLANS MADE PUBLIC IN YEARLY BOOKLET

It is a trifle early to indulge in prophesy but it is safe to say the Cultus Club will keep stride with all modern progress if the 1924-1925 year book recently issued by them is followed with the same earnest endeavor that has marked the other years of the club's existence. Quality has not been sacrificed for quantity and the quality is of a kind to win a large response from the club members. The major study of the year covers the fields of art, music, literature and the drama. The club motto for the year is typical of the ambition of its members. It is "There is only one real failure in life possible, and that is, not to be true to the best one knows." These are the words of Canon Farrar. The personnel of the official club family includes Miss Marguérite Connolly, president; Mrs. Mary Orr, first vice-president; Miss Alice Lamb, second vice-president; Mrs. Nina Banker, secretary; Mrs. Ina Eversolé, coresponding secretary; Mrs. Vivian Austin, treasurer. The first meeting is scheduled for Tuesday evening, October 7, at The Palace Hotel. Roll call responses will be of vacation memories. Following the dinner, music will be offered and Miss Bertha Yulich will recount many interesting details of her trip through Europe this summer. Annual observance of the holidays dear to the heart of America will be kept with traditional ceremonies. These will include Hallowe'en, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Washington's birthday and St. Patrick's Day. Program entertainment on these occasions will be offered by Miss Mary Graves, Mrs. Fannie McCowen, Mrs. Lucy Seawell, Mrs. Vivian Austin, Mrs. K. C. Eversole, Miss Hazel Reynolds, Miss Alice Lamb and Mrs. Harriet Maguire, while the hostesses will include Miss Lamb, Mrs. Maguire, Mrs. Minnie Jamison, Mrs. Florence Preston and Mrs. Evelyn Morris. Other interesting program numbers will include a book review by Mrs. Minnie Jamison, a poets' evening in charge of Miss Perry, a farce to be presented by Mrs. Mary Orr and Mrs. T. A. Templeton, an evening of music under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Thomas, a book review by Mrs. Nina Banker, a dramatic reading by Mrs. Lillian Thomas, a club picnic and an evening devoted to the drama and in charge of Mr. P. H. Joseph and Mrs. Florence Preston. Hostesses for the latter occasions will include Mrs. K. C. Eversole, Mrs. Frank Reynolds, Mrs. Fannie McCowen, Mrs. Lillian Thomas, Mrs. Ruth Anker. Club room hostesses will include Mrs. Lucy Seawell, Mrs. Templeton, the Misses Conrad, Yulich, Perry and Graves. Music and roll call responses feature every meeting. The Cultus Club has the distinction of being the first feminine club formed in Ukiah. Its formation dates back to 1895. It was reorganized in 1904 and has been very active since in cultural pursuits.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Martin and daughter, Myrtle, and Miss Zelpha Keyoe are leaving this week for an automobile tour of Southern California. They will be away a fortnight.

HALLOWE'EN BALL

Indian summer is a colorful time and many of the delightful tints of the autumn will be incorporated in the Hallowe'en ball to be given by a committee of Saturday Afternoon club women Friday evening, October 31, at the elementary school auditorium. It is the first time in many social seasons society has attempted anything so elaborate for the autumn holiday around which so many traditions, dear to the American heart, radiate, and interest is keen. Russet and gold tints will be combined with black in the most weird and unique decoration scheme. The Ukiah orchestra, which furnished such satisfying volume of music for the institute ball, has been engaged for the occasion and various carnival features will be incorporated in the evening's entertainment. Tickets will be sold by club members. They are one dollar per couple. Single admissions for ladies will be 50 cents. The committee in charge of the event includes the following ladies: Mrs. D. R. Smith, Mrs. Louis Hildreth, Mrs. A. Pioda, Mrs. Robert McGarvey.

FOR BETTER HOMES

A group of local women interested in art as it pertained to better living conditions, have joined the classes in interior decorating conducted by Richard Allen, of Berkeley. Mr. Allen is a brother of the architect who is building the Masonic Temple in Ukiah. The classes are meeting on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings at the homes of the members. Tonight the fourth lecture in the series will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Austin in Oak Park. Those included in the study group include Mesdames E. J. James, Bertha Emery, Charles Kasch, R. R. Ingels, E. B. Gibson, F. E. Rea, Orval Tadlock, Robert Austin, A. R. Steiert, the Misses Yulich and Swaboda of the high school faculty, Grace Emery and Bertha Boye.

Mrs. A. R. Steiert was a luncheon hostess Thursday afternoon complimenting Mrs. John Herndon, nee Selma Holzhauser, of Livingstone, who with her husband, has been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Holzhauser. Those who were present were Mrs. Martha Toles, Mrs. Rosalee Montgomery, Mrs. Martha Glazier, Mrs. T. J. Williams, Mrs. L. J. Holzhauser, Mrs. John Herndon, Mrs. B. L. Cleland and Mrs. Steiert.

CIVIC MATTERS DISCUSSED AT CLUB SATURDAY

The Saturday Afternoon Club held the first meeting of the year at its club rooms Saturday. The program was in charge of the board of council and the civic section and speakers of the afternoon included Secretary Kirkpatrick of the Ukiah chamber of commerce, who spoke of the proposed new hotel project for Ukiah, and Senator F. C. Handy, who discussed the poll tax amendment and made suggestions for civic work at the municipal park. Mrs. W. E. Williams, chairman of the civic section, introduced the speakers. Entertainment numbers included a reading by Mrs. P. H. Joseph, a vocal selection by Mrs. H. O. Cleland and a vocal duet by Mrs. Cleland and her brother, Fred Thomas.

During the business session, Mrs. John Ross, president of the Mendocino County Federation of Women's Clubs, consulted with the club regarding matters of business relating to the coming convention at Anderson Valley Saturday, October 10.

The club rooms were beautifully decorated by the hospitality committee, including Mrs. G. W. Stout, Mrs. W. F. Thomas, Mrs. E. S. Masters and Mrs. F. E. Gilmore. Great quantities of gladioli from "The Terraces," sent by Carl Purdy, formed a colorful mass against the green of stately woodwardia ferns. A number of guests enjoyed the hospitality of the club, including new teachers from the high schools of Ukiah and Hopland.

OBSERVE BIRTHDAY

The group of young matrons who enjoy many delightful afternoons at bridge and tea during the winter season, without a formal organization, arranged a charming surprise party for Mrs. Volney Van Dyke upon the occasion of her birthday Thursday. The ladies motored to the Van Dyke home, where bridge and tea were enjoyed following the presentation of a dainty gift to Mrs. Van Dyke. Those who were present were Mrs. M. H. Iversen, Mrs. Victor McGarvey, Mrs. Elmer Gibson, Mrs. Robert McGarvey, Mrs. Earl Ford, Mrs. Perle Crawford and Mrs. Taylor McGarvey.

WANN-GRANT WEDDING

Details of the Wann-Grant wedding, which was announced in the last issue of The Republican Press, were made available this week through the columns of The Oakland Tribune. Mr. and Mrs. Grant, parents of the bridegroom, his sister, Miss Emma Grant, and Herbert Grant, a brother, all of this city, went to Oakland for the wedding. The report follows:

The First Baptist church in Berkeley was the setting on Tuesday evening for the wedding of Miss Gladys Wann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Asbury Wann, and Charles D. Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Grant, of Ukiah.

Four hundred guests witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. E. A. Hanley before the church altar, elaborately decorated with ferns, yellow chrysanthemums and autumn foliage.

The bridal gown was of white crepe meteor, made on straight lines, trimmed with lace, and beaded with seed pearls, and the long veil was caught about the coiffure with a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses, gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. J. B. Buwalda, sister of the bride and matron of honor, wore a gown of apricot and gold satin and carried a shower bouquet of roses.

The frocks of the bridesmaids, the Misses Eve West, Florence Breed, Marjorie Bridge and Catherine Green, were in varying shades of apricot and their bouquets were of mixed flowers in harmonizing colors.

Floyd Wilkins was the groomsman, and the ushers were Dean J. P. Buwalda, Herbert Grant, Marion Grimsley and Emerson Dolliver.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception was held at the Wann home for members of the bridal party and immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Grant will make their home in Concord upon their return from a honeymoon trip.

MERITED RECOGNITION

Friends of Mrs. Sarah Marks and her family will be interested in news that comes from Atlantic City concerning the educational ability of her daughter, Miss Cecille Marks, who went to New York recently to take charge of kindergarten work at Atlantic City. Since that time Miss Marks has been made supervisor of kindergartens, an unprecedented honor for a western teacher. Mrs. Sarah Marks and her son, Percy Marks, who won fame as the author of "The Plastic Age," are planning a European trip in the spring of the year.

ON LONG HONEYMOON

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Anthony Egerer, of Los Angeles, were guests of Mrs. J. P. O'Brien and Miss O'Brien and Mr. and Mrs. A. R. O'Brien the past week. The visitors were lately married in the south and are on a two months' honeymoon, which will include Mexico, California and British Columbia visits before settling in their Los Angeles home. The groom is a promising young businessman of Los Angeles and the bride is the daughter of Robert F. Ross, now retired, but who for years was a partner and life-long friend of "Charlie" Comiskey, the famous baseball magnate.

G. H. Busch, of Potter Valley, was in Ukiah Monday for a brief business visit.

Russell Norberry and E. J. Straus were registered Monday at the Palace Hotel from Mendocino.

Mrs. Fred Hofheinz, Miss Delta Hofheing and Fred Riedel returned yesterday from Crockett, where they went to visit Fred Hofheinz, who works at the sugar refinery.

D. T. Johnson, prominent stockman of the Round Valley country, was a guest at the Palace Hotel Saturday.

KINGSLEY CHAPTER

An interesting session of Kingsley Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, was held Monday evening in the temporary quarters in North School street. An initiatory service was followed by a delightful program combining musical and literary numbers. A trio of ladies including Mrs. Fred Nassie, Mrs. Leila Vevoda and Mrs. Charles Duncan appeared in a musical skit. Mrs. Lucia Hopkins, well known local dramatic reader, entertained with two splendid short numbers. The program and refreshment service was in charge of a committee headed by Mrs. P. J. Boring. The chapter rooms were beautifully decorated in dahlias and other fall flowers and the attendance augurs well for the winter months.

MANY ATTEND DANCE

The "hard times" dance given Monday evening by the employes of the Mendocino state hospital at Talmage assembled the largest number of guests ever present at a social affair there. The music by the Ukiah orchestra was excellent and the costumes unique in character. The informal dress added to the merriment of the event and Ukiah guests are making complimentary remarks concerning the hospitality of their hosts.

ities of age caused his retirement.

High In Masonry.

He was actively interested in fraternal organizations, being a past master of the Masonic lodge and past high chief of the chapter. He was also a member of the I. O. O. F. An interesting fact in connection with Dr. McCowen's life is the minute record he has always kept of the temperature at Ukiah for the weather bureau of the United States. He has kept a minimum, mean and maximum temperature of each day and year since 1893. Dr. McCowen was a staunch Republican and cast his first vote for John C. Fremont in 1856.

And so is recorded the life of a kindly friend and neighbor—a man of superb mind and intellectual attainment who, until the day of his death, was intensely interested in the big things of life and who had no time or inclination for human pettiness. Many friends will sincerely mourn the passing of Dr. McCowen.

SENATOR SHORTRIDGE

industries? I think not. For it is true that with the power the president of the United States has to raise or lower the existing tariff 50 per cent, if a free-trader should occupy the chair, he would be able to make ineffective the protection which you now enjoy for your industries on this coast and in California, by simply cutting down that tariff. I call attention to the fact that every democrat in the senate, save three, voted against the rates finally secured, protecting California products. La Follette voted against the rates we finally secured. It was he who denounced this bill as infamous and spoke of Californians as a lot of beggars coming and asking assistance from the federal government; and he was vituperative and insolent in his denunciation of this bill."

Made Fine Address.

Senator Shortridge's speech was generally credited on all sides as being the very best political talk ever heard here. Senator Shortridge made votes for Coolidge in Ukiah. His was an earnest, convincing argument—one entirely free from denunciation—a talk filled with information a thinking people gladly listened to and will remember. There is no stronger, more loyal republican than is Senator Shortridge, but, at the same time, he is ever a Californian and his great love for the state causes him, at all times, to work to the very limit for the best interests of Californians and of California.

Senator Shortridge and party left early yesterday morning for Healdsburg and entered the Sonoma campaign there.

Irresponsible One Is Sure Shooting Wild

(Special Correspondence of The Press)

COVELO, Oct. 6.—Fine rain we are having.

Dr. H. B. Copsey, the dentist, is in his office at Dr. Osborn's. He will be here at least a month.

Round Valley Farm Center is looking forward to a record meeting tomorrow evening. It is hoped Prof. Nelson, of the University of California, and Senator F. C. Handy, will be among the speakers.

Is it your move? Following are some of the local activities: Harry Haydon and Ralph McCombs in J. I. Hurt's house; Elmer Bucknell in the old Deuel house; the Rice family at the Gibson place; George and Vernon Fales at Mrs. Kaplinger's bungalow.

George Black recently purchased the place known as the Applebaum ranch, and will probably move there soon.

Tentative plans have been made for evangelistic services to be held at the Baptist church beginning Oct. 19 and lasting two weeks.

Former Round Valleyans are keeping up the population in their new homes: Clarence Gray, of Healdsburg, is the proud father of a young son; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hastings, of Santa Rosa, have twins, a boy and a girl; while Mr. and Mrs. Will Spurlock, of Woodland, have twin girls, making eleven children in their family.

Mrs. Omar Bates has been spending the week in San Francisco.

Mrs. Melissa Gravier, Mrs. Lulu Hurt and son, Laurence, visited Mrs. Charlie Lee at Branscomb last week.

Round Valley and the grand jury are equally honored by the presence of Mrs. G. M. Biggar and Mrs. Evan Rohrbough on the grand jury. This is the first time any women from this section have been called for that duty.

Mrs. Amador Short has returned from an extended tour which took in Healdsburg, Sacramento and Los Angeles.

George Bauer shipped some fine steers to Ben Noonan, of Santa Rosa, last week.

Frank Hagne, of Willits, is staying at Mr. Purcell's and attending high school.

Mrs. George Goforth is teaching music at the reservation school.

Some wild shooting has been going on over on the east side of the valley lately. Most of it was done by a 25-35 rifle in the hands of some irresponsible person. Truman Lowry had three of his cows shot and Dayton Patch lost one cow, while Ben Haydon mourns the loss of a good saddle horse, Bolivar, faithful friend and companion on many a bear hunt. Bolivar was shot through the leg and hip, shattering the bone and making it necessary to put an end to his suffering. He was standing in the open field and never moved much after he was shot.

Mr. Haydon's ranch has had trespass notices up for some time past. Mr. Haydon declares he will prosecute to the limit any one found on his ranch with a gun. There used to be a county ordinance which prohibited the use of firearms by any one under 15 years of age. It would be interesting to know if this is still enforced elsewhere, certainly it is not in Round Valley.

Too late for last week's news was a quiet wedding at the home of Will Russell, when his daughter, Florence, was married to Maurice Begley, son of Granville Begley. The bride, a capable and winsome young lady, was one of the 1924 graduates of the local high school. The groom also was educated here and is a graduate of the Santa Rosa Business College. Both young people are highly esteemed in our community and have many friends to wish them health, happiness and prosperity.

Dr. G. K. Osborn has been suffering from a painful sprain, involving the ligaments of the lower leg, notwithstanding which, he has attended his patients as usual.

Rumor has it that Covelo will have electric lights shortly. We are not from Missouri, but some people are.

Mrs. H. L. Preston has been confined to her home with illness the past week.

Harry W. Falk and Fred Hemenway, of Eureka, and W. N. Vallandigham, of Santa Rosa. After the banquet, a street parade was held, led by the popular 35-piece D. O. K. K. band from Petaluma, under the able leadership of Professor Cappelli. This majestic band inspired in all the spirit of the occasion, and was a predominating factor in making the occasion a grand success.

Got Down To Business.

The occasion of the festivities was the organization of a Dokkie Club for Mendocino county, composed of members of the Knights of Pythias Lodges of Ukiah, Willits and Fort Bragg. The ceremonial work was conducted by the members of the El Se Kwoia Temple No. 251 of Eureka, with these officers: George R. Miller, royal vizier; Fred Hemenway, grand emir; Harry Perry, shiek; Fred Scribner, mahedi; F. L. Wilson, satrap; Harry W. Falk, sahib; L. A. Blackburn and L. D. Austin, attendants; W. D. Robinson, secretary; Jas. Wyatt, treasurer; R. S. Heyman, saruk; W. M. Lawton, mokanna; G. O. Thornburg, master of ceremonies; J. A. McFarlan, captain of brigands; John Marshall, A. L. Kuhnle, Ed Hildebrand, P. E. Wilson, A. O. Markuson, Ben Sorenson, H. MacDonald, C. O. Irwin, Mark Wright, brigands; A. L. Johnson, musician.

The following tyros were duly initiated and became votaries in the Dokkie Club of Mendocino county:

S. A. Macdonald, O. F. Graf, A. L. Wessels, G. A. Keller, R. F. Saunders, Ralph Blend, Chas. H. Crawford, A. L. Tracy, E. Jordan, Ed Dunn, Joseph Wilson, Fred Nassie, J. Cowan, E. E. Clark, Chas. Todhunter, John Magulas, M. N. Donohoe, Bert Thomas, Kenneth Thomas and Vincent Giornio, Ukiah; Gunnar Spjuth, Talmage; James M. Heap, John Heap, Thayer Yoham, Joe Lopez, Earl Messinger and Reed Wimmer, of Willits; and four tyros from Scotio.

During the ceremonies, R. S. Saunders photographed the votaries.

Officers Are Named.

After the initiation ceremonies, the folowing officers were elected: Arthur L. Wessels, president; J. W. Heap, vice president; M. N. Donohoe, secretary; Arthur L. Tracy, treasurer.

"God-speed" to the Dokkies and may they again soon pay their respects to Ukiah.

ered his determination.

Saw His Mistake.

"That these political bosses in their greed over-reached themselves is evidenced, however, by the action of Mr. Cunningham, who, once convinced he was being wrongly advised and selfishly used, promptly filed his resignation with County Clerk W. H. Prather, over the protests, it is said, of his former advisors. Mr. Cunningham may have been slow in coming to a realization of the right thing to do in the unfortunate circumstances in which he had been placed, but that he did come to this realization and promptly act accordingly is to his everlasting credit.

Sympathy For Cunningham.

"It is to be regretted any financial difficulties should have occurred in the administration of Mr. Cunningham's office, but the county has been fully reimbursed for all shortages by the bonding company acting as his surety, and by his action in deciding to no longer heed the advice of those who sought to profit by his misfortune, Mr. Cunningham has regained much of the sympathy in evidence when the trouble was first reported, but which he had been gradually losing by following the advice of those who used him to further their own ends. 'For ways that are dark and tricks that are vain,' however, the 'heathen Chinee' is a novice in comparison with some of Mendocino county's slippery politicians of the present day."

Mrs. W. G. Rice is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. E. Lambert. Mrs. Rice is a resident of Los Angeles.

TWO COAST PLANTS ENDANGERED BY FOREST FIRES RECENTLY

Mills Saved By Greatest Effort—Sunday's Rains Believed To Have Put Out Burning Woods. In Many Parts.

FIRES PUT OUT BY THE RAIN OF SUNDAY LAST

From various parts of the county comes information the steady rain Sunday night and all day Sunday has put out practically all of the forest and brush fires about the county. The fires, during the past 10 days, had been gaining headway and grave concern was beginning to be felt.

A fire that had been burning desultorily some distance from Glen Blair toward the coast was fanned into a furnace the latter part of last week and Saturday night and Sunday saw the mill and woods crews fighting vigorously to save the lumber yard and plant at Glen Blair. The fire got within close range of the lumber yard at one time and would have probably reached it had there not been a big force of men to combat it. This fire burned for five days but was at its worst Saturday and Sunday.

Northspur Fire Controlled.

The fire at Northspur which has been giving trouble for some time was gotten under control again the first of the week and most of the crew of men that had been sent out to combat it came in.

Greenwood Plant In Danger.

The lumber yard and plant of the Goodyear Redwood Company at Greenwood was threatened with destruction by fire Wednesday, when what was at first considered an insignificant blaze along the bank of the railroad grade leading to the wharf, and located below the mill yard proper, was fanned by a high wind to a point where it got beyond control and jumped to a pile of lumber in the mill yard.

Started In Rubbish.

The fire was first discovered in the rubbish and splinters that had accumulated through months of loading operations at this point, and although it at first looked like a small matter to extinguish it, the rubbish in which it was burning was of such an inflammable nature it was but a few minutes until a wall of fire fully 200 feet in length was reaching upward to devour anything with which it might come in contact.

Everyone Helped Out.

The alarm was sounded shortly after four o'clock, and as the mill had closed down the day before, the regular fire pump was not in commission, thus allowing the flames to get a considerable start before any water was available. Engine No. 1 was rushed down to the wharf, a hose attached and pumping connection made with the waters of the bay, thus getting a stream of water on the fire. By this time, however, the smoke had become so dense as to make effective work impossible, and as the fire was spreading in both directions, it was necessary to call in reinforcements from the woods.

Hard Work To Save Lumber.

The flames soon jumped to a pile of lumber in the yard, threatening not only a number of buildings nearby, but the large quantity of lumber piled in the yard as well. By the placing of wet tarpaulins on the nearest lumber piles and the use of sand in smothering the flames along the bank, the fire was finally brought under control and stopped within a few feet of the buildings. Final suppression of the fire in the rubbish was a more serious matter, and it was not until after 10 o'clock Wednesday night it was extinguished.

HEADLESS BODY WAS FOUND ON THE BEACH

Remains Washed In Are Likely Those Of Jap Sailor

Early last Friday as the fog and mist lifted from the surface of the Noyo river, S. B. Hoyt, a fisherman, made a gruesome discovery. Floating in the river near its mouth, was the headless body of a man, entirely nude. The corpse was taken ashore and later taken to Fort Bragg where Deputy Coroner C. R. Weller impanelled a jury and held an inquest at which these facts were brought out:

Was Long Dead.

The body was that of a man five feet seven inches in height and was in a fair state of preservation, although it had evidently been in the water about four weeks. It is supposed to be a Japanese and it is thought probable he was a sailor off one of the big Japanese freighters, two of which were in Noyo harbor some month or six weeks ago, loading lumber for the Orient, the last one of which sailed about August 31st. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of death by unknown causes, supposedly drowning.

Personal Mention

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fairbanks and Miss Ruby Fairbanks left last Tuesday for the Klamath river on a ten-day motor trip. Mr. Fairbanks has a road contract in that vicinity and is on an inspection as well as a pleasure trip.

Judge Henry Peirson is home after having enjoyed a vacation of two weeks in the Bay cities and at Sacramento. Judge Peirson is one of the old-time linotype operators and printers and years ago worked on metropolitan papers of the state.

Mrs. R. E. Dimmick has been quite ill for several days, but at present is reported considerably improved and, her friends hope. Mrs. Dimmick will soon be entirely recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Kemp, who so successfully conducted Blue Lakes Resort, have closed the hotel for the winter and will, for the next three weeks, enjoy themselves in San Francisco. Yearly, as travel increases, the patronage at Blue Lakes grows and more friends for the hotel are constantly made. During the present season, despite a bad start because of the foot and mouth disease scare and the drouth, Blue Lakes did a surprisingly heavy business.

Frank Sandelin was a business visitor in Willits Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Cohn have been enjoying a visit from their son, Nathan, who has a nice position in San Francisco and is reported to be doing well.

Mrs. Edward W. James, of Eureka, has been visiting in Ukiah the last few days while Mr. James has been in San Francisco on business matters. Upon Mr. James' arrival here he will be accompanied north by his wife.

Judge J. F. Murray, of Mendocino, was looking after matters connected with his office at the countyseat last week. Judge Murray is making an excellent record as justice of the peace and his actions merit the approval of the people generally.

S. Bassetti, Cloverdale rancher, was in the city Friday last.

George Salisbury, for a number of years connected with the internal revenue department and now residing in Santa Rosa, was mingling with Ukiah friends a few hours Thursday last.

Redwood Valley News Of The Week Outlined

(Special Correspondence of The Press)

REDWOOD VALLEY, Oct. 7.—The house belonging to Mrs. A. Searing burned last Monday. Cause of the fire is unknown, as it was unoccupied. Mrs. Searing has lived in Oregon several years, and has had the place rented at different times.

Clifford Smith made a hurried trip Tuesday last to Sacramento, taking his mother to remain with her daughter, who is quite ill. Mr. Smith returned Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Harry B. Said, from Redding, is visiting at the A. R. Bohna home. Mr. Said is a brother of Mrs. Bohna. He is one of the engineers locating the main power line between the Oregon southern boundary and Anderson. Mrs. Said returned to Berkeley Saturday.

The neighbors of the George Pritchard family surprised them Friday evening by giving them a miscellaneous shower. Many useful articles were received.

The valley was shocked to hear of the death of Sam Legg, who was operated on last Friday night and died the following evening. Mr. Legg was establishing a new home in Redwood Valley, having just completed putting down a well on his property. The sympathy of all goes out to the sorrowing widow.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Johnson, of San Francisco, are visiting at the Finnish Colony ranch.

The Bednar family have just completed remodeling and improving their home. Besides other betterments, three new porches have been built and the house has been painted.

L. A. Daly, father of Mrs. Thos. Jameson, leaves tomorrow for his home in Oregon.

Merle, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Tull, has been seriously ill. The parents at present have the little one in Ukiah, where she is receiving the continued attention of the doctor. It is reported the child is improving slightly.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Nels Nelson has been painted recently.

B. K. Said is on the sick list.

Several ladies of the Redwood Valley Grange met at the Mrs. C. R. Yarbough home Tuesday to tack comforters for the Pritchard family. The members of the committee in charge of the work passed the day, having lunch with Mrs. Yarbrough. Other ladies came in for the afternoon. Mrs. C. H. Smith was chairman of the committee and her committee members were: Mrs. John Finne, Mrs. H. R. Bohna, Mrs. John Wooley, Mrs. Nels Nelson and Mrs. C. R. Yarbrough.

The board of trustees of the Redwood Valley consolidated district was called in a special meeting Sunday morning to consider hiring a teacher for the Reeves Canyon school. It was thought there would be only three pupils for the school so it was decided not to hold school there, but it is said now that there will be 13 pupils. Up to now no teacher has been hired.

Mrs. George Stevens had her tonsils removed recently and is doing nicely.

A wonderful rain is falling in the valley.

SEASON'S CLOSE IS SENDING PRICES UP

Grapes Bringing $125 In San Francisco—No Slump Now

With the grape harvest season almost closed in Northern California, grape prices took another phenomenal rise on the San Francisco market. At the close of the buying period Zinfandels were bringing $125 a ton on a firm market with predictions that a still better price would be offered.

White Grapes $50.

White grapes also showed an increase in price and were quoted at $40 and $50 at the exchange closing. This was an increase of from $5 to $10 a ton.

Not To Go Lower.

Increased demand for the grapes was felt, with numerous orders from eastern jobbers. The sudden slack up on the deliveries was another factor which tended to boost prices to the highest point of the season. It was predicted in San Francisco that the grapes would not slump during the remainder of the season.

Turkey Dinners Sure For Talmage Inmates

About this time last year Dr. D. R. Smith, superintendent of the State Hospital at Talmage, in the hearing of A. Mossi, who is in charge of the poultry yards of the hospital, expressed the wish patients might have turkey for their Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year dinners. Without more ado, Mr. Mossi determined they should and forthwith began raising turkeys, and at this time there are more than 400 fine turkeys in the yards, all doomed to do their share in providing dinners on the three big winter holidays.

BODY SENT TO SEBASTOPOL

The body of Samuel Madison Legg, who died at a hospital here Sunday morning following an operation, was shipped to Sebastopol Monday afternoon for interment. Mr. Legg was 68 years old and formerly conducted a restaurant in this city. He returned to Ukiah recently and purchased a small ranch in Redwood Valley.

FORMER RESIDENT KILLED

Dr. James Melville Fisher, former pastor of the Presbyterian church at Mendocino and more recently a practicing physician at Mayfield, was instantly killed at the latter place Wednesday when his car was struck by an interurban train. Dr. Fisher was the second former minister at Mendocino to lose his life so tragically. Dr. Handley, also a one-time Presbyterian minister at Mendocino, and later a dry agent; was killed in a similar manner.

Ex-Deputy Ries Back From An Eastern Trip

Ward Ries and J. W. Bonham arrived home Monday from a visit of several weeks in the east, Mr. Ries having spent the greater portion of his time with his parents in Michigan, while Mr. Bonham visited at his old home in Iowa. Johnnie Aylward, who went east with them, continued on to Montreal and New York and had not reported at the time they started on their return, but is expected to arrive in a few days. For years Ward M. Ries was an efficient deputy sheriff on the coast and while in office was credited with having captured every murderer—aggregating 20 or more—wanted in Mendocino county. His retirement was greatly regretted by many taxpayers.

Mendocinoites Will See Great Dirigible

Within the next few days the start of the monster dirigible balloon Shenandoah in its flight across the continent will be made from Lakehurst, N. J. The Shenandoah will fly over Ohio, Arkansas and Texas to Tuscon, Arizona; and from there will fly over Yuma, Arizona; El Centro, California; San Diego, Point Arguello, Monterey, San Francisco, Eureka, Astoria, Portland and Seattle. This proposed schedule of flight would bring the Shenandoah close to Mendocino county towns while en route from San Francisco to Eureka. It is probable, in fact, the giant dirigible would pass almost directly over Ukiah, since flying conditions would be best over the interior valley of Mendocino county. The time of the flight, four days and 10 hours, would bring the giant cruiser in this section about October 13. Watch the city papers for news of the Shenandoah's start north from San Francisco and then scan the sky.

Miss Beatrice Cooney, niece of Mrs. E. L. Caughey, has been here from the coast, a visitor at the Caughey home a number of days.

Mrs. F. L. Caughey is home from a visit with her son in San Francisco.

W. B. Coombs, well-known coaster, was here Monday.

C. B. Melville, republican candidate for assemblyman whose election at the coming contest is certain, was here to attend the Shortridge meeting and the dinner given in honor of Senator S. M. Shortridge by A. Perelli-Minetti.

MOVE HIGHWAY CAMP

The highway camp located at Cummings for the past year and well known as Lane's camp, because of the fact that George Lane was in charge, moved about seven miles farther north on the Redwood Highway last Friday. This move was due to the fact that the work of widening the road near that section was completed and the men are now at work widening the road and making fills where needed beyond the old location.

WILL PROVE SATISFACTORY

Miss Geraldine Cunningham, of Ukiah, has been added to the faculty of the Fort Bragg high school. Miss Cunningham, who was graduated from the University of California in June, will unquestionably prove a very successful and popular teacher.

The boys responded by singing some of their camp fire songs and giving some of their new yells to show their appreciation. Harry S. Smith, inventor of the "Chart of the United States Flag," gave a very fine talk on "Our Flag." Everybody was agreeably surprised when Mr. Smith announced a very good friend, Miss E. Lois Beasley had presented The Albertinum with a Chart. All were very grateful to Miss Beasley for her kindness and assure her they will become better Americans because of the knowledge to be gained from her gift. A splendid demonstration of the new still visual picture machine was made by E. Cuthbertson Monday, and all regretted the inability to purchase a machine, because of the wonderful impression Mr. Cuthbertson made on all. Joseph I. Wilson attended all the sessions of the institute, and was able to secure all of the above ladies and men, because of his attendance.

Individual Service—Nation-Wide Facilities

TELEPHONE service is essentially an individual service. Each subscriber must be dealt with as an individual. His telephone instrument is a piece of individual, personal equipment. But to coördinate this instrument with a nation-wide system requires supplementary facilities in wholesale quantities.

In itself, this instrument represents only a relatively small investment. Its proportionate share, however, in the total investment in wire, poles, switchboards, buildings and other plant required to make Bell System service universal in scope is an hundred times its own value.

This investment per instrument is steadily increasing as more and more equipment, constantly growing more complex, is put into service at the present high prices of labor and materials.

Centralized manufacture and years of continuous research have enabled the Bell System in some measure to meet this rising tide of plant investment. The result is that its service remains unrivalled not only in efficiency and in extent but in economy from the standpoint of cost to the subscriber.

"BOB'S BUNKEM" IN TOTAL COLLAPSE WHEN HIS CHARGES ARE ANALYZED

Appeal to Class Prejudice by Accusing American Business of Monopolistic Conspiracy Not Supported by Facts.

By Wm. M. BUTLER,
Chairman Republican National Committee.

Washington.—Senator LaFollette, opening his campaign with a speech on Labor day, pictured the American people as being in a terrible plight, and offered a bill of particulars. He also proposed his remedies. His speech was an appeal to class prejudice. The "facts" upon which his speech was based have been subjected to careful scrutiny, and his allegations do not stand up.

He said a gigantic monopolistic conspiracy of American business is sucking the blood, morals and pocketbooks of the American people. The truth is the Republican administration has fought monopoly and preserved free competition, as proven by the actual price of necessities. Examining Mr. LaFollette's speech in detail, how does it square with the facts?

1. "Exactly what do we mean by the 'system'?" asked LaFollette, and answering his own question, he said: "We mean the combination which rules the coal industry of this country and which fixes the price of coal to the consumer."

The fact is that in the bituminous coal industry, which comprises 80 per cent of all coal production, there is no single corporation or group which controls more than 5 per cent of the total output. Eight thousand independent operators are in active competition, half of them selling coal for less than cost; bituminous prices are lower today than in 1916, though wages are 100 per cent above pre-war.

2. He said: "We mean the banking combine which, through its control of the federal reserve board, arbitrarily fixed interest rates and controls credit in the interest of the big monopoly system. It initiated four years ago a policy of deflation, causing a shrinkage in farm prices since 1920."

This deflation was inaugurated and carried out under the Democratic administration. Interest rates were at once lowered when the Republican administration came into office. Furthermore the Republican administration appointed a farmer on the federal reserve board and created the intermediate credit system for the farmer's special benefit.

Mr. LaFollette forgets that there has been a steady increase in the prices to the farmer, as well as an increase in the purchasing power of his crops, ever since the Republican administration reversed the policy of the Democratic administration, which placed the farmer in the economic situation that he was in in 1921 and later. This is shown by the following index numbers of the average price of agricultural products and the index numbers of the purchasing power of the products as published by the Department of Agriculture:

Wholesale Prices for Farm Crops.

Year	Index Numbers	Purchasing Power Farm Products—1913
1913	100	100
1921	109	67
1922	113	69
1923	136	72
July 1924	155	83

3. Mr. LaFollette said: "The consumption per capita of such a staple food as bread is very much less than it was a few years ago. . . . It means that there are many people in the United States today who are hungry for bread."

Bread consumption has been decreasing in the United States in recent years, but Mr. LaFollette distorts the reason. Every nation decreases its consumption of bread when it increases its consumption of meats, fruits, sugar and other palatable foods demanded by a higher standard of living. Senator LaFollette attempts to conceal the increased consumption of other agricultural products. Under the low standards of living in Europe the consumption of breadstuffs amounts to 60 per cent of the total diet as against 20 per cent in the United States.

The following table shows the increase in consumption of foodstuffs per capita in the United States in important lines compared with wheat:

Average Annual Consumption in Pounds Per Person.

	Wheat	Sugar	All Meats, Incl. Lard	Beef	Pork, Incl. Lard
1912-14	319.2	85.9	154.9	68.0	82.9
1923	308.0	106.3	153.4	70.4	107.3

4. He said: "We mean the meat-packing combination, which fixes the price of the products of the farm," etc.

There are about 700 independent competing packers in the United States. Three of the "big five" to whom Mr. LaFollette refers, have had to entirely refinance their business due to enormous losses; and one is in the hands of a receiver. The five have earned less than 1 per cent on goods handled during the past four years.

5. Mr. LaFollette said tariffs must be reduced. He attacked the whole Fordney bill and demanded all-around reduction.

Take the tariff off dairy products and you destroy that industry; take the duty off wool and you destroy the sheep industry; take the tariff off California fruits and nuts and the American growers are at the mercy of the Mediterranean growers. And so on down the list. Take the tariff off manufactured goods and the American workingman is at once in unrestrained competition with the sweated labor of Europe.

Mr. LaFollette said:

6. "The farmer in this country receives an average of only 40 cents of the dollar paid by the city consumer for farm products while the farmer of Denmark receives an average of 80 cents."

He neglects to state that the farmer in Denmark is within 125 miles of all consumers while in the United States there is an average of 1,200 miles between farmer and consumer.

7. He said: "We mean the sugar monopoly," etc.

The wholesale price of sugar at New York since the 1922 tariff was passed has averaged a little over 6 cents a pound; the average, for three years before the war was a little over 4½ cents; an increase of 30 to 35 per cent. The average increase in the price of all commodities has been 45 per cent. Seventy per cent of Cuban sugar (our chief supply) is controlled by four or five groups which operate on foreign soil beyond reach of our Sherman anti-trust law. But for the competition of American beet sugar, these four or five groups would control absolutely the price of sugar in the United States. The Republican tariff has preserved and fostered the beet sugar industry. The Cuban groups want to destroy the tariff on sugar; so does Mr. LaFollette.

8. He said: "We mean the transportation monopoly," etc.

The railways of the United States during the last four years have never earned more than 5½ per cent on physical valuation, and on an average have earned less than 4 per cent. There cannot be much extortion in these earnings. Remember, labor comprises 70 per cent of railway operating costs. The average railroad wage is now 90 per cent above pre-war, yet the railways, by great economies of operation, have held rates on agricultural products to a point only 45 per cent above pre-war level. Agriculture needs a reduction in freight rates, but that does not justify a misstatement of the facts. The only way for Mr. LaFollette to bring about the gigantic rate reduction he talks about is to reduce the wages of railway employees, and if he does that he will decrease consumption of the farmer's produce.

9. He said: "We mean the oil monopoly, which dictates prices on gasoline throughout the land."

The average pre-war price of gasoline was 16 cents; it is now 19 cents, an increase of about 19 per cent. Remember the average advance in all commodity prices was 45 per cent.

10. Mr. LaFollette charges that the Republican administration failed to enforce the laws against combinations and monopol.

The fact is congress during this administration passed bills to correct evils attending meat packing and stockyards, and the dealing in grain futures. Under this same administration 49 suits were brought to check violations of the anti-trust laws, and 47 of them have been cleaned up; this is a greater record than was made in the previous ten years. The Federal Trade Commission has handled 30 per cent more cases of unfair trade practices during the present Republican administration than in any previous four years.

Senator LaFollette said:

9. "We mean to conserve those natural resources and to make available to the people at cost the light, heat and water which can be developed from the water power sites now owned by the government."

What Mr. LaFollette really wants is government development and operation of public utilities. The government has never been able to operate public utilities as cheaply as can private enterprise. What Mr. LaFollette means, but is afraid to say, is socialism.

The federal water power act, in force since 1920, insures permanent public ownership and control of power sites on public lands and power privileges in navigable and international streams, which contain 85 per cent of the water power resources of the country.

Mr. LaFollette did not on this occasion mention his proposal of two months ago about government ownership of railways, nor his proposal that congress should override the Supreme court. Under government ownership of railways would he give employees the right to strike and disrupt all transportation whenever they wanted an increase in wages, or would he suppress strikes among government employees and thus thrust all of the railway employees in the country into entire subjection to congress for their fundamental living standards?

In the case of the plan to let congress override the Supreme court, it would be interesting to know whether the various minorities in the United States are prepared to sacrifice their right to freedom of speech under the present Constitution and subordinate such right to the will of a congressional majority.

MANY MATTERS WERE HANDLED BY BOARD

Supervisors Transact Much Business At Special Session

The Board met at 10 o'clock P. M., September 24, 1924, in special session, with all members present, pursuant to a call signed by each member of the Board and for the purpose of meeting with the "Committee of Nine" which was appointed by the Governor to investigate and report to the legislature recommendations relating to the State Highway system of California.

A motion was made by Supervisor Howe to recommend to the Committee of Nine the following projects: 1. Completion of McDonald-to-the-Sea Highway; 2. Completion of Ukiah-Tahoe Highway; 3. Building of road down the Mendocino coast from Leggett Valley to Gualala; 4. Highway into Round Valley; Building of Ukiah to McDonald-to-the-Sea Highway.

A motion was made by Supervisor Williams, seconded by Supervisor Ford and carried to ask the Committee of Nine to incorporate in their report and recommendations to the State legislature the early completion of the Ukiah-Tahoe Highway and the McDonald-to-the-Sea Highway; the extension of the Ukiah-Tahoe Highway to the sea over the most feasible route and building of a new project to be known as Round Valley Highway. The vote on the above recommendation on roll call was as follows: Ayes—Supervisors Williams, Ford, Ross, Fairbanks; Noes—Supervisor Howe.

By motion made by Supervisor Williams, seconded by Supervisor Ford and unanimously carried it is the opinion of the Board that the financing of the construction and maintenance of our highways will best be done, not by bond issue, but by increase in gasoline tax and plate fees as will meet the demands of a reasonably elaborate constructive campaign.

A resolution by Supervisor Williams, seconded by Supervisor Ford and unanimously carried, was adopted that the Board recognizing an emergency need in financing the State Highway program, it is the sense of this Board that whatever the increase in gas and plate tax may be found necessary, that it go one hundred per cent to the State.

The Board met at 10 A. M., Sept. 29, 1924, with all members present, pursuant to a call for a special meeting, signed by each member of the Board, for the purpose of receiving and opening bids and awarding contracts for construction of road over Fairbanks Hill in First Road District and Section 4 Legget Valley-Rockport road in Fourth Road District, to fix amount of bond to be given to secure payment of taxes now a lien but not payable in Johnson & Ray's subdivision of N½ of Gobbi Addition to Ukiah and to consider the application of Clyde W. Henry for a franchise in Round Valley and to fix time for opening bids and directing notice of the filing of application and time fixed for opening bids and fix amount of the Franchise Bond.

BIG RIVER WOODS ON FIRE—HOME IS LOST

Disastrous Result Of Burning Out Of A Defective Flue

A fire, which for a time threatened the logs at Mallory's Camp 1, started by the burning of the ranch home of W. E. Docker in the Comptche section almost a mile distant from the logs. The fire in the Docker house quickly spread to a barn nearby in which was stored a quantity of gasoline and dynamite. Mr. Docker fought desperately to save the barn, but in spite of his effort the structure was soon in flames. An explosion followed and the burning fragments of wood were scattered far and near and the nearby woods were soon a mass of flames.

Nothing Was Saved.

Mrs. Docker had managed to save some personal effects of the family which she carried to what she considered a place of safety in the orchard. After the explosion the orchard was set on fire and everything she had saved was destroyed. The automobile which was stored in the barn was lost.

Woods Caught Fire.

Fire fighters arrived from Mallory's Camp and Mendocino, and when the Docker property was destroyed, turned their attention to saving the timber in the surrounding country. After hours of hard work they cut a trail in front of the path of the flames, got the fire under control and saved the lumber company's log supply at Mallory's camp.

Mr. and Mrs. Docker have suffered a serious loss in the destruction of their entire property. They lived on the place 39 years and the improvements of a life time were swept away in a few short hours.

Wanderer Probably Is Former Coast Citizen

After existing several days on almonds and salt, refusing to sleep under shelter and roaming the hills around San Rafael, an unidentified man was arrested at San Rafael. The man attracted attention by wandering through the streets without shirt or shoes, clothed only in a coat, trousers and straw hat. When last questioned by officers he said his name was either Belap, Belt or Blat, he didn't recall which. When food was brought to him he refused to eat, declaring he lived on almonds and salt to remain in perfect health. Many old-time residents of Fort Bragg believe the man being held at San Rafael is Bill Blatt, a former woodsman of that vicinity. Mr. Blatt was at one time a familiar figure in Fort Bragg, but dropped out of sight a few years ago.

SUFFERED TORMENT AFTER EVERY MEAL

Gratz Sold Business And Traveled In Search Of Health—Tanlac Brought Relief.

"For 25 years," recently declared M. Gratz, well-known baker, 916 Castro St., Oakland, Calif., "I suffered from as bad stomach trouble as I believe any man can have and still live.

"As far back as 1901, it had pulled me down to where I sold out my business in Los Angeles and just traveled around from place to place trying to regain my health. Everything I ate hurt me and my life became a continual torment when I did eat.

"All the money spent and remedies tried did me no good until I found Tanlac, and now, for the first time in 25 years, I am free from stomach trouble and eat everything. I am, in fact, like a new man, relieved of all suffering and feeling happy and carefree. I am going to keep Tanlac in my home. It hasn't an equal."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Walter Sandelin had a residence and an apartment he wished to rent. He advertised in The Press and forthwith both were rented. Advertising in The Republican Press classified columns never fail.

POLL-TAX LAW HAS NUMEROUS VIRTUES

Senator F. C. Handy Is In Favor Of Aliens Meeting Burdens

Senator F. C. Handy is deeply interested in the proposed poll-tax law, and in speaking of the amendment the other day he said:

This amendment is for an educational poll-tax. It is designed to make those foreigners in this state, who send their children to our schools, and who receive all of the benefits and protection of our laws, and who do not share any of the burdens of the expenses of our state government pay an annual poll-tax of $5.00—all of which goes to the state school fund—thus to a considerable extent relieving the taxpayers of a growing burden.

What Difference Is.

It differs from the old poll-tax law in that it is two and a half times as much, and it exempts the property owner who pays real or personal taxes to the extent of $5, from the payment of the proposed poll tax.

People Should Know.

I believe you will be doing the people of this county a real service by giving this amendment some attention in The Press.

The following is the Constitutional Amendment No. 47 "Resolved, by the assembly, the senate concurring, that the legislature of the State of California at its 45th regular session commencing on the 8th day of January, 1923, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that Section 12 of Article 13 of the Constitution of this state be amended to read as follows: Section 12—The legislature shall provide for the levy and collection of an annual educational poll-tax of not less than $5 on every male inhabitant of this state over 21 and under 50 years of age, except persons holding an honorable discharge or discharged under honorable circumstances from the army, navy or marine corps of the United States, persons who pay a real or personal property tax amounting to at least $5 per annum, paupers, idiots, insane persons and imbeciles. Said tax shall be paid into the state school fund."

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Taxes

As required under Sections 3746, 3748 and 3749 of the Political Code, of the State of California, notice is hereby given that the taxes on all Personal Property secured by Real Property and one-half the taxes on Real Property will be due and payable on the THIRD MONDAY IN OCTOBER, OCTOBER 20, 1924, and will be DELINQUENT ON THE FIRST MONDAY IN DECEMBER, DECEMBER 1, 1924, thereafter, at six o'clock P. M. and that unless paid prior thereto, 15 per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and that if said one-half is not paid before THE LAST MONDAY IN APRIL, next, at six o'clock P. M., an additional 5 per cent will be added thereon.

That the remaining one-half of the taxes on all real property will be payable on and after the FIRST MONDAY IN JANUARY next and will be DELINQUENT ON THE LAST MONDAY IN APRIL next, thereafter, at six o'clock P. M. and that unless paid prior thereto, five per cent will be added to the amount thereof.

Second:—That all taxes may be paid at the time the first installment as herein provided, is due and payable.

Third:—That the place at which payment of taxes may be made will be at the office of the Tax Collector in the Court House, at Ukiah, Mendocino County, California.

No Power Shortage—A Great Achievement

WITH pride, this Company announces that the perplexing problems presented by the long drought have been solved.

There will be no shortage of power in P. G. and E. territory this year.

All demands for electricity have been met. An increased consumption of approximately twelve per cent has been supplied. Nor will rates be increased.

Behind this simple announcement lies the story of a titanic struggle by a loyal and efficient organization against appalling odds; a fight that was fought and won in silence for a public unaware that it was going on.

California's homes, industries and irrigation depend much on electric power. California uses more electricity per capita than any other state. In terms of wealth and comfort, therefore a shortage of electricity is a serious matter to us all.

Electricity in this state is made primarily by turning a wheel with falling water. Thus fuel is saved. Steam plants, much costlier to operate because they burn oil, are maintained as auxiliaries. So, a water shortage naturally implies a power shortage and higher rates.

For eight years rainfall in California has been below normal, and in 1923-24 the seasonal precipitation was only forty per cent of normal. Stored water in the principal reservoirs north of Tehachapi attained only fifty per cent of reservoir capacity.

When January passed with the drought unbroken the P. G. and E. tackled the problem of making sure of a continuous, adequate service. For weeks the Company's intrepid scouts tramped the remote Sierras on snowshoes measuring the depth and density of what snow there was. Before the Company's engineers was the spectre of the summer's peak demand: the haunting fear that a day would come when factories, mines, farms, railways, stores and homes would be pulling on the lines together and would fail to find enough "juice" for all.

"Conserve water, and bring up steam production; work the steam stand-bys day and night, and get new steam power wherever possible" was the order, to which was added: "Cut operating costs to the minimum in order to meet the increased expense for fuel oil."

By a myriad of ingenuities and new contrivances every drop of stored water has been made to do unprecedented duty in power-production. A great steam plant, costing a million dollars, authorized January 31st, was completed and in service June 16th, a month ahead of schedule. Industrial steam-plants like those of the California Hawaiian Sugar Refinery, Mare Island Navy Yard, Northwestern Pacific Railroad, and the Hercules Powder Company, and plants disused because power bought from the Company is cheaper, were leased by the P. G. and E., oiled, and set to making current. In January the Company had 27 hydro and 5 steam plants. In September it was operating 42 plants. Cost of oil consumed leaped up three million dollars, but rigid economy in other directions held down the increase in cost of power-production so that no increase in rates will be made.

Luck was not kinder than usual. At a critical time, 144 feet of the Stanislaus flume, perched on a trestle 40 feet high, went out, and the break, 15 miles from the base of supplies, shut down a plant of 50,000 horsepower. This flume is 6 feet deep and 9 feet wide, one of the greatest in America. Shifts of heroic toilers made the repairs in 62 hours although the job was estimated to take 96.

At steam plants boiler troubles occur. Repairs ordinarily mean a stop of three days for it takes 24 hours for the interior to cool. In a particular instance a boiler was repaired in 22 hours. Some one went into that torrid boiler and removed the heated brick lining. It was all in the day's work.

Other setbacks occurred such as the prevalence of forest fires, damaging power lines and flumes, but the Company has met the requirements of the public without requesting help or favor. When new consumers asked for service they got it without a murmur. The farmer, who needed more power than ever before, was not denied. No new industry failed to get energy. The twelve per cent increase in demand for power was supplied with a smile, although there were whiles when the engineers felt a palpitation of the heart every time a stout passenger boarded a streetcar on the system.

And now, Victory. The farmer's pumping is done. The strain relaxes. We will fight tomorrow's battles with tomorrow's strength; but rain or shine the mighty Pit No. 3 will come in next season and the Company has no fear of the year ahead.

Contributing to that victory, a victory of which the public get all the fruits, was, first, a devoted and efficient organization, comprising 11,600 employes, always on their toes, guided by initiative and foresight, ambitious to maintain the unfailing standards of Pacific Service.

Then the fact that the P. G. and E., one of the largest hydro-electric companies in the United States, serves a wide territory, drawing power from numerous sources, favored by a great diversity of demand. No single plant, serving one community, could have met the situation.

Finally, the spirit of co-operation among the power companies of California who, for the sake of the public service, fed one another from time to time with surplus power, as the load here fell off, and the load there pressed harder, so that not a kilowatt of current went to waste.

When you think of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, picture a company with 11,600 employes and 30,000 owners, nearly all Californians—a company, serving the public faithfully and on the job in all seasons and at all hours.

An Excellent Cast Is To Give "Ike And Mike In Algeria"

The Ukiah Dramatic Club will present to a Ukiah audience on Friday, October 17, the musical comedy, "Ike and Mike in Algeria." The cast will include 15 talented amateur actors and actresses and a large chorus. The latter feature will be in charge of Mrs. Nellie Gibson, well known director of chorus work, whose fame as a producer of artistic songs and dance numbers is widespread. The director of the play is J. L. Stanley, who succeeded so admirably with the recent K. P. benefit staged at the school auditorium. Much of the talent displayed in the former benefit will again be in evidence in the present play.

Handsome Costumes Secured.

The chorus costumes and many of the gowns worn by the players are to come from San Francisco and will be of a most elaborate kind. In addition the songs, hits and jokes will all be fresh and the entire affair is bound to take well.
